DAILY DEMOCRAT-FORUM
AND MARYVILLE TRIBUNE

VOLUME 17. TWO SECTIONS—12 PAGES MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, MONDAY, NOV. 1, 1926 TWO SECTIONS—12 PAGES NO. 130

EXPECT LARGE VOTE TUESDAY

AMENDMENT NO. 4 ONE REASON FOR BIG POLL.

VOTING INSTRUCTIONS

Hours are From 6 A. M., to 7 P. M.; Two Ballots Will Be Used; Polling Places Named.

Polling Places Here.

First ward (Precinct D)—Mutz Garage, East 5th street.

Second ward (Precinct C)—Armory on North Buchanan street.

Third ward (Precinct B)—Lanning's Tire and Top Shop, Corner First and Main.

Fourth ward (Precinct A)—Smith's Plumbing Shop, East Third street.

Tomorrow's election promises to be interesting and to bring out a good vote, according to leaders of both parties here today. With the meetings held here Saturday by both the Democrats and Republicans, in addition to the meetings held over the county last week, more interest has been aroused and a big vote is expected.

Another reason for a good vote is that many voters will go to the polls to express themselves against No. 4, the proposal to repeal the state prohibition enforcement act. This proposal has been discussed by most of the ministers of the county and in many community meetings during the past few weeks. Some leaders think this proposal will attract more people to the polls than the candidates themselves.

The polls will open at 6 o'clock in the morning and will close at 7 o'clock P. M.

Upon entering the polls tomorrow each voter will be presented with two ballots. One will contain the candidates for office on the Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Socialist Labor, and Prohibition tickets. The other will contain four amendments to the state constitution.

The ballot used is that known as the Australian blanket ballot. To vote a straight party ticket the voter is required to place an X or cross mark in the circle immediately under the name of the party chosen. To vote a split ticket an X mark should be placed in the circle of the party having most of the candidates selected, and an X mark in the squares opposite the names of candidates chosen on the other party tickets.

Today's Democrat-Forum and Tribune contains the official ballot and amendments, and also the instructions how to vote.

A proposal for a closed season on quail in Nodaway County also is on the ballot to be voted on at the election tomorrow. If the proposal should carry, there will be a closed season on quail for two years. A closed season is being urged by a number of farmers over the county as a crop protection measure.

The little boy died at 10 o'clock Saturday night following a several hours' illness of spinal meningitis, becoming ill Saturday morning.

Private funeral services were held this morning at San Bernardino and burial took place there.

Besides his parents, the child is survived by an older brother, Billy, and a baby sister. He was born in Maryville.

MONEY RAISED FOR BUILDING

MORE THAN NEEDED AMOUNT IS SUBSCRIBED.

HAS THREEFOLD DUTY

Preaching, Teaching And Healing Are Principal Obligations Of Church, Dr. I. N. McCash Says.

A total of $7,079.20 was raised at the services at the First Christian Church yesterday to defray the expenses of repairing and redecorating the building. Slightly more than the needed amount was subscribed by members of the congregation.

The total cost of the work was approximately $11,000. About $4,000 was subscribed before the work was started several months ago.

All of the pledges made yesterday are to be paid within eighteen months, after which the church here will be free of debt.

Teaching, preaching and healing are the three principal obligations of a worth-while church, Dr. I. N. McCash of Enid, Okla., and pastor of the church here thirty-three years ago, said in his sermon yesterday morning. The building of schools and hospitals has followed the spread of Christianity, he added.

"In any country where Christianity is not known, you would find no free schools. The poor people of that country would be without teachers. In that non-Christian country, you would find no hospitals for the poor and the distressed."

Dr. McCash then discussed the obligations of the present generation in preserving a great heritage. Those living in the past have made innumerable sacrifices to provide for the generations of the future. Then it is not asking too much, Dr. McCash believes, that citizens of the present make a meager sacrifice in order to carry on the work begun years ago.

The speaker reminisced over the period while he was pastor of the church here and the many changes which have taken place since. Dr. McCash came to the church here thirty-six years ago. Following a three year pastorate, he became associated with a large church at Des Moines, Ia. He has been president of Phillips University at Enid, Okla., for a number of years.

HYDE CHARGES 'FALSE ISSUE'

BOTH HAWES AND REED INSINCERE, HE DECLARES.

CONSTITUTION IN PERIL

Hawes Would Violate It, Williams Observe It, Says Former Governor. —Flays Reed.

Another large crowd of Republican voters heard former Governor Arthur M. Hyde Saturday night at the Missouri Theater in a continuance of his assault upon Senator James A. Reed and Harry B. Hawes, Democratic senatorial candidate.

Mr. Hyde was introduced by E. C. Curfman, chairman of the Republican county committee. The meeting practically closed the Republican campaign in this county.

Both Reed and Hawes were charged with "insincerity" and "falsity" of issues," and with attempting to play to both the rural drys and the St. Louis wets.

"Prohibition," Hyde declared, "is being used as a two-edged sword in this campaign. In St. Louis, Harry Hawes is being held out by Sen. Reed as a man who will work changes in the brutal and drastic features of the law. Williams, they say, is too dry. Out in the State, the Hawes henchmen argue that Williams is as wet as Hawes.

"Both arguments can not be true.

"The positions of the two candidates are these: Hawes says he favors the 'increase in the alcoholic content of beverages' to such a point as to substitute 'for the bootlegging product a more acceptable non-intoxicating beverage.' It cannot be done. There is no non-intoxicating substitiute for an intoxicating beverage. Both Reed and Hawes know this. Their pretense of such an issue is false on its face. They offer in advance to violate the oath of office to support the constitution.

"Williams says he has believed and does yet believe that the Eighteenth Amendment is a mistake, but that so long as it is part of the constitution, he will aid in enforcing it. His record proves his sincerity. His position is that the only honorable way to get rid of the 18th amendment is to repeal it.

"Williams takes his stand on firm ground. To nullify the constitution by non-enforcement or by in-action, or by legal fictions would be a national disgrace. That is the road to chaos. The Eighteenth Amendment is no more, and no less, binding than the first ten, or than the provisions which create the Supreme Court. It is within the rights of any man to advocate the repeal of any one, or all of these provisions. Sound American constitutional principles demand that, until repealed, any and every part of the constitution be enforced.

"That then is the cleavage—being wet, Hawes would violate the constitution. Although wet, Williams would uphold the constitution. On such an issue, no man who cleaves to constitutional government as the bulwark of his liberty, his property and his security, ought to hesitate. Whether wet or dry, the vote ought to be for the Constitution and George H. Williams."

In his broadside against Reed, the former governor said:

"Senator Reed inquires, 'Why did God make Hyde?' Of course, I cannot myself unravel that mystery; but I would not say such a thing about Reed. I have too much respect for God to charge him with responsibility for Jim Reed.

"He says I am a 'dry bigot.' Maybe so, maybe not. I will not argue the point, but when you measure the expectations of the wets for rivers of beer when they voted for Reed in 1922, against the meagreness of his performances as senator, he can truthfully be said to be a 'dry spigot.'

Replying to Democratic attacks upon the tariff, Hyde declared that 1920, the last year of the Wilson administration "marked the ruin of the American farmer." He asserted that the purchasing power of the farm dollar had risen since 1920 from 69 to 87 cents.

TIME TO PAY TAXES AGAIN

BOTH TOWNSHIP AND CITY BOOKS OPENED TODAY.

M. I. WOODS THE FIRST

Total Taxes for Township Are Slightly Higher, While Those for City Are Smaller.

Along with chilling breezes, November 1 brought the tax collector today.

The taxbooks for both city and Polk Township were thrown open this morning in the Maryville city hall, in the basement of the Public Library. There was no great rush.

M. I. Woods was the first to pay township taxes this morning. He was number three in the book, however, as two asked to pay last week, before the taxes formally became due. The early birds were L. E. Ziegler and Cecil Smith, the latter now a resident of Kansas City, here last week for a visit.

Others prompt to pay their taxes this morning were Dr. W. B. Heryford, A. W. Littler, William Carter and David Housel, arriving in that order.

At 9:30 a. m., the township tax payments totaled $462.20.

The total of taxes on the township books, according to Emmett Bartram, township collector, is $165,834.92. This is slightly higher than last year, when the total was $163,680.40.

The county and township taxes on farm land total $71,788.35, as against $71,345.90 last year. The average valuation of the land is $106 an acre. Taxes on city real estate total $65,004.88 as against $65,405.87 last fall. Personal taxes in the country are $6,288.12 and in the city $22,753.57, as against $5,657.88 and $21,270.75 in 1925. The total of personal taxes is $29,041.69, compared to $26,928.63 last year.

On the city tax books, presided over by Mayor W. O. Garrett and Mrs. Merle Smith, city clerk, is a total of $32,737.56, which is less than the $34,104.49 on the books in 1925.

Owners of city real estate are expected to pay to the city a total of $23,348.78; personal property, $5,399.25; banks, $2,757.97; and merchants, $1,231.56. The city taxes are for the following purposes:

General tax, $17,460.02; street lighting, $5,456.26; library, $2,728.13; first water bond principal, $2,728.13; first water bond interest, $545.63; second water bond principal, $2,728.13; second water bond interest, $1,091.26.

Taxes become delinquent after January 1 and a penalty of 1 per cent is added each month.

Burt Rowley Injured in Fall on Ladder Hook

Gash Cut In His Right Leg When He Starts To Climb On Roof of Godsey Home.

Burt Rowley, fire chief, suffered a serious cut on his right leg shortly after noon today while he was climbing up on the roof of the Ed Godsey home on West Fourth street to extinguish a blaze caused by sparks from the chimney. Mr. Rowley slipped and fell on the hook of the ladder, a gash being cut in his leg. He was given immediate medical attention and is getting along very well at his home on North Market street this afternoon.

The damage at the Godsey home is estimated at about $50.

Mrs. James Duguid of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church will speak at a meeting of women of the Maryville churches at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Duguid spoke at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in St. Joseph this afternoon.

NO PROSPERITY HERE, HE SAYS

HENRY JOST DECLARES EAST DOMINATES COUNTRY.

BLAMES IT ON TARIFF

Fordney-McCumber Bill Has Enriched Manufacturing Interests At Expense Of Agriculture, He Believes.

Henry Jost of Kansas City, who was brought to Nodaway County as an orphan boy years ago, came back to "home folks" Saturday night and made a plea for some "prosperity" for the farmers of the Middle West.

Mr. Jost was introduced at the Democratic mass meeting in the Circuit court room by S. E. Brown of Hopkins with whom the orphan boy studied law. A short time after passing his bar examination, Mr. Jost went to Kansas City. Since then, he has been the mayor of that city and its congressman.

A large crowd was present at the Democratic meeting. Charles F. McCaffrey, county chairman, presided.

Mr. Jost immediately launched an attack on the Fordney-McCumber bill, which, he said, had brought prosperity to the industrial East at the expense of the agricultural West.

"This 'robber tariff' has made more billionaires in the East during the last six years than there were millionaires before them", Mr. Jost continued. "But there are none of these billionaires before then," Mr. Jost continued. ing is the chief business. They all happen to be in the commercial sections of our country, where manufacturing is the principal industry.

"But while the East has prospered, conditions in Nodaway County and other counties in our agricultural West are about the same as they were thirty or forty years ago.

No 5-Day Week Here.

"There certainly must be same reason for this unbalanced prosperity. They talk in the manufacturing districts of a five-day week and an eight-hour day. But we of the Middle West do not hear the farmers talk of short hours or fewer working days. We have seen them rise long before daybreak and remain in the fields until dark. Governmental statistics will show that the income of the average farmer is about $750 a year. Yet we hear on all sides about 'Coolidge and prosperity'."

Mr. Jost said that the Fordney-McCumber tariff law costs the farmers on the average of $250 each per year in increased prices on farm machinery, food, clothing, etc.

The speaker then discussed the recent primaries in Pennsylvania and Illinois. He declared that Senator Williams of Missouri opposed the Reed resolution for investigation of these primaries and for this reason alone, "Williams should be defeated."

"Interests Control Candidates"

"What is it that moves interests or men to put up three million dollars to nominate a man when the office pays but $10,000 a year," Mr. Jost asked. "It means that these interests who paid for the nomination and election of the man will control him after he takes office.

"In view of the fact that Senator Williams was opposed to the investigation of the Pennsylvania and Illinois primaries, is there any reason to believe that he would not support Vare and Smith in their fights to retain their Senate seats?" Mr. Jost inquired.

The speaker briefly discussed state politics and declared that taxes had greatly increased in Missouri during the last six years and that expenditures for the maintenance of the various departments have also increased.

An Appeal To Women.

Mrs. Luella St. Clair Moss, president-emeritus of Christian College at Columbia, and a former candidate for Congress, appealed to the women of Nodaway County to be as "patriotic in times of peace as you were in times of war," and urged them to vote at the election tomorrow. Mrs. Moss briefly traced the history of the two parties. She discussed the present tariff law and declared that the "people of the Middle West are not in the protected class."

She termed "Coolidge prosperity" a myth and called attention to the number of farm foreclosures during the last few years. America is "under the control of the big interests of the industrial East," Mrs. Moss believes. She contrasted the conditions now with the Wilson administration and said that "in all of the eight years Woodrow Wilson sat as President of the United States there was not a single hint of scandal or corruption."

City to Build Own Clear Water Well

Council Passes Another Ordinance to Authorize Construction by City Workmen.

Having rejected the only bid as too high, the City Council held a special meeting Saturday night and decided to have city workmen construct the proposed new clear water well at the city pumping station. A new ordinance was required, as the one originally passed provided that the work should be done by the lowest bidder. The only bid was $4,100, while the city thought $3,500 a liberal estimate.

The council will meet again tonight in its regular monthly business session.

HOOVER GIVES YEAR'S REPORT

SECRETARY JARDINE PRESENTS FARM PRICE CONDITION.

NEARS LEVEL OF 1921

Export Trade Of Nation Amounts To $2,572,000,000 In Last Fiscal Year.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Friday gave President Coolidge an optimistic annual report on American foreign trade.

At the same time, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine announced that the general farm price level, influenced by the slump of cotton has fallen thirteen points in twelve months, and now is only ten points above the level in October bear, 1921, when farmers went through their last heavy depression.

The farm price report showed that the level dropped from 134 to 130 per cent of the pre-war level from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. Cotton and Cottonseed prices fell from 134 per cent of the pre-war level to 94 per cent in the north. The farm price of 11.7 cents a pound for cotton on Oct. 15, dropped below the five year average of 12.1 cents.

Export trade of the nation is turning to manufactured and partly manufactured goods, of which $2,572,000,000 were shipped abroad in the last fiscal year, Hoover reported. He said this tendency, "would undoubtedly continue," reflecting expansion of domestic markets and domestic consumption for farm products.

Queen Marie to Study Farming at First Hand

Aboard Queen Marie's Special Train In North Dakota, Nov. 1.—Queen Marie will today find out what a real American dirt farmer looks like.

Her plans call for a half-hour interview with a half-dozen genuine wheat and cattle raisers as she crosses the great plains of North Dakota. The first farmers, accompanied by their wives, will be taken aboard the luxurious special train as it passes through Fargo, N. Dak. The second group will be taken on at Valley City and the next at Jamestown.

Her Majesty is intensely interested in farming questions, particularly the problems relative to cereal production, and it is in accordance with her wishes that these representative farmers be her guests.

Governor A. G. Sorlie of North Dakota will board the train at Bismark to extend an official welcome to Her Majesty and will accompany her to Dickinson.

Prince Nicolas and Princess Ileana went to a tennis court and played tennis during the day. At least, Ileana played tennis. Nicolas looked on.

U. S. Court to Review Insurance Decision

More Than 100 Missouri Companies Given Another Chance To Retain Present Rates.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The United States Supreme Court today granted more than 100 insurance companies operating in Missouri review of the Missouri Supreme Court decision upholding an order by state insurance commissioner Ben C. Hyde, reducing fire, lightning, hail and windstorm insurance rates by 10 per cent. The order issued in 1922, was annulled by Cole County Circuit Court, but the State Supreme Court reversed the decision.

SEE CABINET SHAKEUP SOON

LEADERS BELIEVE MELLON AND KELLOGG WILL QUIT.

MELLON'S WORK DONE

Kellogg, On Other Hand, Wants To Remain But He Has Only Slight Strength In Republican Circles.

Washington, Nov. 1.—A cabinet shakeup this winter is expected by persons close to President Coolidge.

Unless present signs fail, the two major cabinet positions, state and treasury, will become vacant.

Secretary mellon, financial guardian of the administration, is tired and is known to want to resign. Secretary of State Kellogg has powerful enemies and only a waning strength with the Republican party.

The President has wanted Mellon to remain, but White House advisors believe Mellon has made his contribution to the administration and in the future may become more of a liability than an asset.

Mellon, himself, is known to be anxious to retire from public life to the comparative seclusions of his corporations and banks. He feels that he has accomplished his major objectives—tax reduction, rapid retirement of the public debt, and foreign debt funding.

Of the big job now confronting the treasury department, prohibition enforcement, is said to be less interested. Mellon is 72.

Kellogg's case is different. Although more than 70 years old, he is anxious to continue. But there is a rising demand in inner administration circles for what is termed a more vigorous diplomat in the state department, and, incidentally, one with more Democratic political strength.

Partial failure of certain American foreign policies and the prospect of a Senate hostile to the administration after the coming election, are now being used by his opponents as reasons for getting Kellogg out. He was the only cabinet officer not used by the Republican chiefs in the present campaign.

As a possible successor to Kellogg, White House advisors have suggested Senator Borah of Idaho and Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Both are foreign experts and potential rivals of President Coolidge for the Republican presidential nomination in 1928, but it is believed neither Borah or Hoover would consent.

Last-Minute Appeal to All Citizens to Vote

Both Republican And Democratic As Well As Non-Political Organizations Urge Utilization Of Franchise.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Political agencies and non-partisan groups interested in public progress today turned their whole efforts toward getting out the vote for tomorrow's election which will determine the control of Congress during the next two years.

After President Coolidge broadcast an official appear urging citizens to utilize their franchise, leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties and heads of promotion organizations followed with statements recommending general participation in the election.

Anti-French Incidents in Front of Consulate

Italians Hostile Because Of Numerous Attacks Upon Mussolini—Italy Asks Action.

Paris, Nov. 1.—It was reported here today that anti-French feeling resulting from the attempt to assassinate Premier Mussolini had resulted in hostile incidents in front of the French consulate at Bologne and the French embassy in Rome.

Last September, when a bomb was thrown at Mussolini, it was established that the thrower, although Italian born, had been in France and that he crossed the frontier into Italy a few days before seeking Mussolini's life.

The Italian government requested France to take measures to curb anti-Italian plots in France.

"NO" ON NO. 4.

For the best interest of Missouri, Nodaway County voters are urged to scratch the word "Yes" on Proposition No. 4 tomorrow. The citizens need the help of state officers in enforcing the prohibition law. Let's make it unanimous against No. 4 in Nodaway County tomorrow.

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

The issues of the campaign are made up. The essential elements in the contests are fairly well known to those who have cared to inform themselves. the thing to do now is to express the crystalized public sentiment at the polls tomorrow.

American government, local, state and national, is founded on the theory that people will care enough to express themselves at the polls. If they fail, then to that extent government fails. Minority expression cannot be considered as a safe basis for democratic government.

Our forefathers fought to get the chance to vote. Will we show ourselves worthy of their sacrifice? Or will we flout our great inheritance by staying away from the polls tomorrow? —Kansas City Times.

QUIET LOCOMOTION

Notable progress has been made lately in silencing automobile noise and vibration. Tightness and elasticity are combinedto this purpose. Leather and rubber are used to take up the minute movements between contacting metal surfaces which produce squeaks and rattles. Rubber washers and cushions are preventing noises originating in the engine or any other part of the car mechanism from being transferred and made audible in other parts. Automobiles may soon be as quiet as cats.

Inspired, perhaps, by this automotive progress, the railroads are taking a new interest in silencing their rolling stock. On one American railroad Pullman cars with roller bearings are being installed. That not only makes them run with less friction, but with less noise. There is said to be "velvet smoothness in riding at all speeds, coupled with entire absence of tug and jar in starting and stopping."

Much might be done with ordinary coaches and locomotives, likewise, by applying automobile devices to deaden vibration and reduce shock. There is still more room for improvement in trolley cars. The cost of such innovations would seem large in the beginning, but would probably pay in reduced cost of operation and longer life of the car. Ultimate economy, as well as human comfort, calls for the silencing of noises in every kind of traveling equipment.

OPERA IN ENGLISH

There is still a general impression that it is impracticable to produce grand opera in English. Charles Hackett, tenor of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, believes that is a delusion.

"In many instances the opera does sound ridiculous in English," he says, "but that is not because of the language but because of the stupid translations of foreign operas which are used. The language itself is all right. I have sung in many languages, and I say now that, with the exception of Italian, there is none easier to sing in."

Perhaps it depends on the singer as much as it does on the translation or literary style of the libretto. Ordinarily when an operatic selection is sung in English an American audience can make no more out of it than when it is sung in Italian or French or German. Yet it is possible to sing in English so that every word may be as clearly understood as spoken words in a play. Our best concert singers prove that.

We shall probably have all the great foreign operas in English, then, when they are translated into real English instead of a crude, unintelligible jargon, and when we have first-class English operas and American artists to sing them.

About the only thing an American doesn't accept with reservations these days is an invitation to a party.

Personally speaking, one of the things we're glad we don't have to worry about is the Queen's cigarettes.

There seems to be some doubt as to what the national issues are in this campaign, but the political experts will tell us after election.

Another wise provision of Nature. "More boys than girls will be born," says an astrologer. They'll be needed, to compete with the girls.

It isn't true, as a secret service man says, that "women make poor detectives." That merely happens to be one field in which women don't tell all they know.

Jack Dempsey may be perfectly honest in saying he's glad to be relieved of the responsibility going with the championship. Now he doesn't have to fight any more.

What Other Editors Say

"NOTHING TO VOTE FOR."

"Why vote? Because this is a republic, a Government based on manhood suffrage, in which the responsibility for the very existence of our form of government rests upon every man and woman able and intelligent enough to vote. Having chosen a form of government in which its law makers and officials are not masters, but representatives and servants of the people, it follows that if those who want good government fail to select the best to represent them, they have only themselves to blame if they are represented by the inferior or the worst. We are not mere passengers on the Ship of State. We are all responsible members of the crew, and especially responsible for the choice of a captain, pilot and officers who can and will steer the vessel safely, for the good of all.

How childish is the cry of the citizen who desires certain reforms, or to be rid of certain evils, that voting is futile, or there is nothing to vote for. In mass, the voters are all-powerful. The ballot is the one instrument and the only one, by which the citizen can get what he wants peacefully. And the voter who will not vote has no right to complain of any wrong that could be righted by political action.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—With election out of the way, Washington will be filling up with national legislators pretty fast. It always does right after every election.

Congress doesn't meet for nearly a month after any election date—it's a little more than a month this year—but there always is considerable preliminary work to be done.

Besides, a great many congressmen are very much infatuated with Washington.

Perhaps it isn't surprising that a man from some jerkwater little town in the sticks should prefer the capital. Perish the thought that he should admit it to the home folks, but it's noteworthy that he makes for here the minute he's sure he's safely re-elected.

According to early arrivals it's been an unusually gruelling campaign for an off presidential year, except in parts of the country which always go the same way, regardless of issues or candidates or anything else.

The individuals who have been doing the spellbinding are pretty well fagged out. Never were there so many states and congressional districts which classed as doubtful up to the last minute. Seldom in recent times has so much mud been slung. That's what the returning politicians say.

Secretary Mellon was the only cabinet member not drafted into the service by the Republican speakers' committee.

Several others weren't at all keen about taking the stump, saying they were too busy here, but the committee dragged them all onto it as election day drew near—all who hadn't been there from the very beginning of the fight.

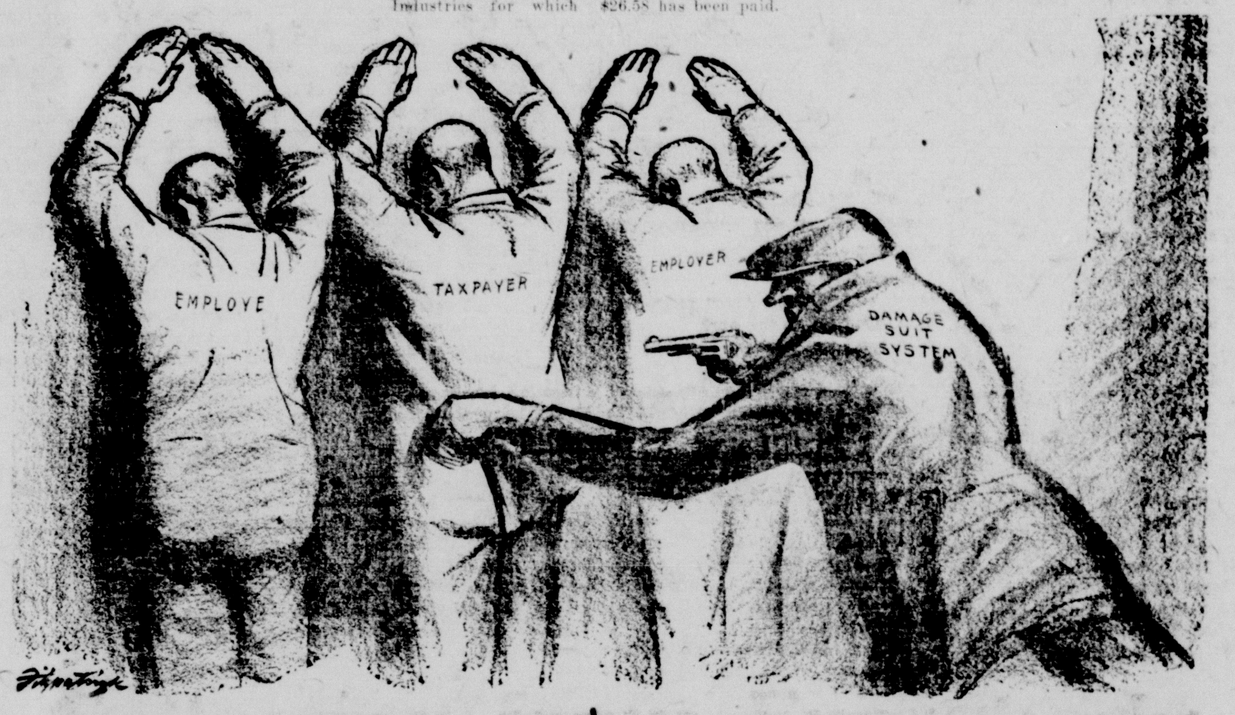
ELECTION—TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1926.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT—Authorized by Missouri Associated Industries for which $26.58 has been paid.



Collecting from Everybody

LIKE a lone highwayman with his gun leveled at your back, the vicious "Damage Suit" system collects its yearly toll from you. You the voter—you the taxpayer—YOU PAY FOR IT IN EVERYTHING YOU BUY, you pay for it in everything you build, you pay for it in increased taxation. WHY? Simply to fatten the pockets of the unscrupulous damage suit ring which fosters this evil practice with highly paid spies, solicitors and ambulance chasers. THE "DAMAGE SUIT" SYSTEM MUST GO. It clogs the court dockets of Missouri with thousands of unnecessary damage suits every year. It costs the consumer and taxpayer of Missouri MILLIONS OF DOLLARS EVERY YEAR to maintain this vicious system. It deprives you of the benefits enjoyed by 42 other states where Workmen's Compensation Laws are in operation.

The Remedy—"Vote Yes" on Proposition No. 1

The WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW that was passed by your legislature.

It requires employers to care for their employees hurt in factory accidents. It definitely sets the amount to be paid for each injury. It assures free medical, hospital and surgical aid.

Every injured employee is guaranteed a living income as long as he is unable to work—without expense to the State—without expense to him, without delay.

Proposition No. 1 does not cost the taxpayer a penny. The cost of operating and administering this law is collected from the insurance companies through a 2% charge against employers' liability insurance premiums.

Don't be tricked by Proposition No. 3

Special interests have seen to it that you have a chance to be confused and tricked out of a Workmen's Compensation Law.

You will find on your ballot Proposition No. 3, a counterfeit Workmen's Compensation Law. It was put there BY PETITION. Canvassers were paid from 10c to 25c for each name secured.

Proposition No. 3 WAS NEVER SUBMITTED TO OR CONSIDERED BY YOUR LEGISLATURE. It was FRAMED UP by special interests to confuse the voters and kill the act passed by your Legislature.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 PUTS THE STATE OF MISSOURI in the Insurance Business.

It takes $4,000,000 OF THE TAXPAYERS' MONEY from the State Treasury to start a STATE INSURANCE FUND and creates a new bureau of many highly paid political appointees.

IT WILL INCREASE TAXATION AND DRIVE BUSINESS OUT OF MISSOURI.

DEFEAT PROPOSITION No. 3

SCRATCH "~~YES~~"—VOTE "NO"

The law does not apply to Farmers, casual workers, or public employees. The small merchant and small business is not affected as the law specifically exempts all non-hazardous occupations.

Proposition No. 1 will make possible lower prices for all products made and used in Missouri, by reducing the excessive insurance cost of manufacturer and merchant due to the "Damage Suit" system.

Proposition No. 1 will encourage new factories to locate in Missouri towns. Thousands of employees will then spend their weekly pay with the local merchants. The farmer will gain by having a bigger, nearby market for his produce.

Proposition No. 1 The Workmen's Compensation Law — Vote YES, Scratch ~~NO~~

The ONLY Missouri Workmen's Compensation Law that has the official endorsement of—

This and That

David Housel, known to many Maryville residents as "Uncle Dave," was disappointed this morning when he failed to get to the city hall in time to be the first citizen to pay his taxes. Last year he was first, and he always is near the top. He blamed his lateness this morning on the fact that he came out this morning without realizing how cold it was and had to go back for his overcoat.

The first of the month again—Bills, bills and more bills.

It's not everybody who can advertise in the comic section of the Sunday Globe-Democrat and Kansas City Star. Ed Williams managed to do it yesterday. The page of the comics given over to Walt and Skeezix showed many signs on "Doc's garage," put there as a Hallowe'en stunt. One of the signs read: "Ed Williams, Attorney at Law."

Mr. F. P. Reuillard has come to the rescue and answered the question, "How far is it to Stanberry?" He says it is 26 miles according to the speedometer on his car. One sign at the corner of the First National Bank says 29 miles. Another sign across the street says 30 miles.

Maryville's fire siren blew long and loud early Saturday morning. Mr. Clarence Vogt was en route to work.

Someone inquired of him: "Where's the fire, Chick?".

Mr. Vogt: "That's not a fire, that's the Bearcats signing off."

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hayes and sons, Wayne and Raymond, 1212 East Second street, and Mr. and Mrs. Si Ralston and son, Harry Burton, of Ravenwood spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Logan Hayes and family at Forest City.

Mrs. John Kelinger and daughter, Lula, of Lenix, Ia., have returned home after a visit of two days with Mrs. Ida Persons.

Mr. and Mrs. John Todd of Guilford were guests Saturday at the home of Mrs. Emma DeMoss on South Walnut street.

D. E. Hotchkin and son, Ralph went to Kansas City yesterday morning on business and will return home tomorrow.

TRENTON GETS HI-Y MEETING

FOURTEENTH CONFERENCE TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 26, 27 AND 28.

MARYVILLE TO SEND 9

Expense For Each Boy Is Small; Dexter, Carthage and Bowling Green To Have Similiar Gatherings.

The 1926 series of Missouri older boys conference for the fourteenth conference season, has been announced to the Hi-Y Club of the Maryville High School, by the state committee of the Young Men's Christian Association at St. Louis.

The meeting places and dates of sessions are: Trenton, November 26, 27, 28, for this district; a conference at Dexter convenes on the same dates; Carthage and Bowling Green have meets December 3, 4 and 5.

The conference, formerly a state gathering of older boys, was divided into three districts last year. This year four districts. The towns are so situated as to enable the most delegates to attend and lessen the expense and reach a wider audience of older boys.

The Trenton conference, in this district, is being advertised over Nodaway County by the Hi-Y Club. Letters and circulars are being sent out to ministers, Sunday school superintendents and school superintendents. The Hi-Y arranges to send out a group of boys who have attended such conferences to speak in high schools of the county where there is a request for speakers. Representative boys of the several Maryville churches will be asked to promote the conference spirit in church and Sunday school.

The Hi-Y Clubs plans to send eight boys and a delegation leader. The treasury will supply round-trip railway tickets and the delegates will be asked to pay the registration fee. The club last year paid the fee of registration which amounted to enough money to pay train fare for two more boys. Hi-Y delegates will be officially elected at the regular meeting of the club, Wedesnday, November 17th.

The conferences are held to bring together leading Christian boys from the entire state for inspiration, for information, to discuss frankly the challenge confronting youth, to consider the various ways in which boys can aid in the church, school, home, and at work to help to develop Christian citizens.

Any boy fifteen years of age to twenty-one years, who is vitally interested in the purpose of the conferences as outlined are eligible to attend.

The conferences in the entertaining cities are supported by the schools, churches, colleges, clubs and homes, together with the aid of the state Young Men's Christian Association.

The cost per delegate for the three day stay is small. The homes of each conference city will provide lodging, breakfast and Sunday dinner for all delegates. Other meals are provided for through the registration fee, which is three dollars. Registrations must be in headquarters by Monday of the conference week.

The program of the conferences will be based on the question, "What Do You Want?" (John 1:38).

The programs for each individual conference city is not complete yet, but the following are some of the speakers that have been secured:

Dr. D. W. Kurtz, president of McPherson College, McPherson, Kan.; C. C. Robinson, National council of Y. M. C. A.'s boys work staff; Dr. Andreas Bard, St. Mark's Lutheran church, Kansas City; A. G. Robinson, Y. M. C. A., Tientsin, China; Dr. W. F. Lampe, West Presbyterian Church, St. Louis; E. D. Verink, foreign work department, National Y. M. C. A.; Dr. J. B. Magee, Trinity M. E. PASTORS URGE NO. 4 DEFEAT

APPEAL IS MADE YESTERDAY FROM THREE LOCAL PULPITS.

JAMES GIVES SERMON

Others Make Brief Appeals.—Rev. Dewar Also Urges Passage Of Compensation Law.

Three Maryville pastors spoke from their pulpits yesterday morning in opposition to Proposal No. 4 on the constitutional ballot, to be voted upon tomorrow in the general elections throughout the state.

One discussed all four of the proposals, urging the passage of two and the defeat of two others.

At the First Methodist Church, Dr. C. C. James devoted his entire sermon to Proposal No. 4, characterizing it as a "conspiracy to betray Missouri."

"It is a smoke screen," said Dr. James, "to make Missouri the ground for an orgy of debauchery and disgusting immorality."

The "wet" forces, he declared, have picked a few pivotal states on which to "place the stigma of nullification of the United States, displacing our flag with the red flag of anarchy." He named Missouri, New York, Illinois, Nevada and Colorado as the states in which the test is to be made.

"If finally resolves itself into this," the pastor said: "Shall the laws be obeyed or shall we disqualify every law on our statute books and thus attack with the weapon of nullification the Constitution of these United States?"

Charges Foreign "Dictation."

Dr. James charged that foreign liquor interests are trying to "dictate" to the United States. He denied the frequently repeated assertion that there is more drinking among young girls and boys and among college students. He declared that there is more home building, that in crime the number of first offenders had decreased from 20 in every 10,000 in 1914 to 4 of every 10,000 now.

"The appeal to repeal does not decrease taxation one penny," Dr. James pointed out. "There are 6,250 officers in Missouri now available for enforcement of the prohibition law. These would be withdrawn and not one cent of your taxes saved. We have today but forty-seven federal officers in this district, which includes Missouri, Kansas and twenty-eight counties in Illinois.

"Let us rather demand," Dr. James urged, "that the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, like our state institutions and educational work, be taken out of politics—not to be used as a reward for political service rendered."

Denies Religion Is Separate.

"I would like to meet the man who says religion has nothing to do with politics," said the Rev. W. N. Dewar, at the First Presbyterian Church. "Religion has something to do with anything that affects the lives of men."

He then took up each of the amendments in order. Himself a former coal miner, he laid special stress on the first, to create a workmen's compensation law.

"It is a sin and a crime and a shame that Missouri has no compensation law," he declared. "It is a stain upon the name of Missouri that we will never erase until we vote 'yes' on Proposal No. 1. This is your burden."

The Reverend Mr. Dewar was speaking from the text: "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ."

"If I were a member of Congress today," he declared, "I would try to get an amendment passed to disfranchise any man or woman who does not recognize that his vote was bought with blood and tears and who does not trouble to go to the polls."

On Amendment No. 2, to permit cities to pension policemen, he urged a favorable vote, pointing out that such action "would not take a penny out of the pockets of the taxpayer."

Opposes No. 3 and No. 4.

Proposal No. 3 he opposed as a "subterfuge" to defeat No. 1.

On Proposal No. 4 his attitude was much the same as of other pastors, styling it "an attempt to get Missouri to abdicate her sovereignty."

"If this proposal passes and the state's prohibition enforcement laws are repealed," he asserted, "conditions will be worse than they were when the saloons were open. Bootleggers will be without restraint."

By votes of "yes" on the first two and "no" on the last two proposals, the Reverend Mr. Dewar told his hearers they would "fulfill the law of Christ by bearing the burdens of the generations to come."

The Rev. R. E. Musgrave, pastor of the First Christian Church, did not refer to any of the proposals yesterday, as he devoted a full sermon a week ago to No. 4. Before the men's class of the Bible School, however, T. H. Cook urged retention of the state's enforcement act by a heavy vote against the repeal proposal.

The Rev. R. A. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, confined his discussion to the repeal proposal, urging its defeat. His discussion was separate from his sermon.

Charges Norris With Plot Against Witnesses

State, in Fighting Attempt of Ft. Worth Minister for Change of Venue, Asserts Witnesses "Honorable."

Ft. Worth, Nov. 1.—Rev. J. Frank Norris, on trial here charged with the murder of D. E. Chipps, wealthy lumberman, is attempting to create a prejudice against state witnesses, divert public attention, and arouse sympathy for himself, the state charged this afternoon in answering Norris' petition for a change of venue.

The state has nothing but "honorable and high class witnesses," the state's reply declared.

Norris' charges were categorically denied by the state with the exception it was admitted that Meacham, the mayor, had contributed funds to the prosecution as well as Mrs. Chipps, divorced wife of the slain man.

Five Boys Observe Hallow's Eve With a Shooting Party

Five Maryville boys celebrated the great anniversary of all the fairies, gnomes, elevs and witches last night with a shooting party. They were arrested by Officer Leo Atherton for shooting off firecrackers and torpedos and throwing them against the windshields of cars they passed. The boys Tom Malson, 18 years old; John Dooley, 18 years old; Carl Price, 15 years old; and George Hall, 18 years old. All of the boys lived in Maryville excepting Dooley, who lives near this city.

Sheriff Lowell Campbell received word about 8 o'clock Sunday night that several boys in a car were shooting in Wilcox and had shot through a window in a house there. Shortly after that time some men on their way to Rock Port telephoned to Sheriff Campbell saying a shot had been fired through the windshield of their car.

Officer Atherton and Lloyd Heifner in their cars encountered the boys, north of Maryville, and the same thing occurred to them as to the other cars out on the road. In the Heifner car, it made a hole in the windshield about the size of a bullet hole. Atherton and Heifner chased the car and finally caught them. No gun was found in their car. The goys will be arraigned on Nov. 6.

Other groups of children were out last night, but the ringing of door bells and similar harmless fun was the extent of the Hallowe'en activities.

Large Crowds Visit New County Infirmary

A large number of persons visited the new Nodaway County infirmary, which was formally thrown open for public inspection yesterday. The visitors were received by Superintendent and Mrs. George E. Brown and were shown through the new building and over the farm. Many favorable comments were heard on the fireproof and sanitary features of the building.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

JUDITH MARTIN, young, red-haired, beautiful, arriving to teach in Pendleton University meets an earnest man who rescues her handbox on the train, but refuses to enter into conversation with her.

As she steps from the train at Pendleton station, a strange young man giant, green-eyed, seizes her, kisses her and without a word thrusts her into a taxi and vanishes.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER II.

The taxi was wheeling into the main street when Judith first dared to glance out the window. For a moment her heart stopped, as a light topcoat came round the corner.

But the coat swung from puny shoulders less than five feet from the ground. And then the sidewalks seemed lined with light topcoats of many descriptions. The owner of the green eyes and the broad shoulders and the strong arm evidently was not to be identified by his coat.

The car left the business district and swung into an avenue lined with old trees and large houses of frame and ancient brick, set far back in spacious lawns.

The driver stretched his head through the opening toward her. "You say 512 College, miss?" he asked.

She nodded, and the man, after a curious glance at her white face, turned back to his wheel.

A few moments later, they turned a corner and the car shot up a driveway. "Fifty cents, miss," the driver said, when he had nonchalantly set Judith's baggage on the grass by the drive.

"You've been paid once" she retorted. "And kindly carry my bags to the door."

The man grumbled as he followed her up the wooden porch steps. On the top step he threw down her bags and departed.

Music and laughter drifted out from the reception hall as Judith fumbled for the knocker. She found, instead, an antiquated bell operated by a thumb screw, which sent a brassy peal through the house.

The door opened and a youth in a white apron stood before her.

"Is this Mrs. Stedway's house?" she asked, almost petulantly, for the youth stood silent and frozen.

"Yes," he drawled.

"I have rented a room here. I suppose I may come in?" Judith found her voice growing brittle.

He pushed open the door, making no move to take her bags. The piano banging in the next room stopped, and a pale, blond girl stepped between the folding walnut doors. "I am Mrs. Stedway's daughter, Lillian. I'll show you to your room."

They went up the stairs in silence, and the pale Miss Stedway pushed open a door into a bedroom. "You're Miss Martin, of course. The rest are all here. Supper will be ready in fifteen minutes. You'll hear the gong." She turned and descended the stairs.

Just inside the door, Judith stopped and leaned rather weakly against the wall. The room was plainly furnished, and the white walls, rising indefinitely heavenward, added to its barrenness. But the five windows promised light and air and the counterpane on the white-enameled bed looked clean.

Near the bed stood a large packing box bearing the name of the firm from which Judith had ordered her blankets and bed linens. She inspected the bed more closely. There was nothing between counterpane and mattress. All other necessities had been left for her to supply. Even the golden oak dresser lacked a scarf. It was scarred on top with rings from many perfume bottles, and covered with dust.

Judith set down her burdens and rather listlessly walked toward the bed. Without stopping to unpack the blankets, she lay down on it and closed her eyes.

Sometime later she was awakened by a gong sounding somewhere below, followed by a burst of noise in the hall and on the stairs. She sat up with a start and glanced at her tousled self in the mirror opposite. Then she turned out the light again and lay down.

Red tongues of light dancing over the walls and ceiling awoke her next. For a moment, she lay starring at them, in a panic. Then she rushed to the window and saw a procession of whooping young men leading up the street a stripling clad only in his underwear, and brandishing red torches as they ran.

Every window in the Stedway house went up simultaneously, and Judith heard shrieks of laughter as girls recognized friends in the procession.

"Hi, Jimmy, throw him in the fish pond for me. That's one of the things every young freshman should know." This in a feminine squeak from the porch downstairs.

A sound behind her made Judith turn suddenly. The reflections from the torches were still careening ruddily around the room, and their intermittent light struck against someone leaning against the closed door. A pin point of fire burned beside the figure.

Red gleams caught in the black folds of the person's garments and then flickered off. "Who is there?" Judith's voice caught a little.

The figure at the door stretched out a hand and pressed a light switch. Judith saw a black-haired girl of 19 or 20, wrapped in a black satin lounging robe, and holding a lighted cigaret in her hand.

"Sorry if I'm bothering you," the girl said indolently. "I am Myra Aldrich. I just came in to see what all the fuss is about. My windows are on the side."

She walked to the window, gazed a moment and shrugged her shoulders.

Then she moved, with curious swinging stride, to Judith's bed, climbed upon it and stretched herself out, with her head against the wall. She was still puffing at the cigaret.

"I also wanted to give you this," she said. "It was stuck under my door by mistake. You ARE Judith Martin, aren't you?" She held out an envelope.

Judith glanced at it and laid it on the table. Then she looked at her guest again.

Myra was quite at ease. "I like your room, Miss Martin. "Mine's much smaller and barer. You see, I didn't decide to come until the last minute and had to take what I could get."

Judith nodded politely. "It will do very well, when I have found some chintz to take away the hospital look. I like these windows."

Myra said, "It's rather queer for me to be here. I don't usually care much for strangers. But this house is pretty beastly, and I got lonely. Have you seen the collection of boarders?"

Judith shook her head. "I didn't go down to dinner."

Myra whistled. "Just wait. But you and I'll have to be friends. I've got to have somebody to talk to—especially when I'm in love."

Judith looked at her quizzically. "And are you in love now?" she queried.

Myra nodded casually. She had thrown back her robe, and its cardinal red lining deepened the richness of her skin. Her eyes lighted on the packing box.

"Your bedding has come, hasn't it? I'll bet mine doesn't get here for a week. It was only ordered Saturday."

"But you can't sleep without blankets on a cool night like this," protested Judith.

"Have to. Mrs. Stedway hasn't any to lend, she says."

Judith looked at the single bed. "Come in and sleep with me," she said, impulsively. "We can manage."

Myra displayed no embarrassment. "Very well, perhaps I shall. You haven't had any dinner. I have a chicken sandwich and a slab of chocolate cake in my room. I'll get them if you like."

Myra's departure for the refreshments gave Judith a chance to open her letter.

"Dear Miss Martin," it ran, "This is to advise you that members of the faculty of the college of liberal arts will meet at 2 o'clock Wednesday at the administration building." It was signed "Timothy Brown."

"You eat and I'll smoke," said Myra, as she came in with the sandwich and cake. "I'll also talk. I feel the need of conversation this evening." She stopped suddenly and looked shrewdly at Judith. "But, look here! I'll bet you won't do to talk to. Bet you've never been kissed." She smiled at Judith impudently.

Judith flushed. Then she smiled sheepishly. "Yes, I have—and no longer ago than this very afternoon." Then, seeing Myra's face light with curiosity, she added hastily, "But that's another story. Go on and tell me your tale of woe."

Myra lay back with eyes half closed and puffed smoke between scarlet lips. "Well, it's just this. I'm in love with the handsomest young Viking that ever breathed—and the most fickle!

"I went to Miss Ashton's school in New York last year because he was at Princeton. But he's here this year, because his father's giving him a dose of the simple life. So I'm here, too.

"He's mine now, Judith. But he's changeable. And if he ever stops loving me, I shall quietly but firmly kill myself."

Myra seems to be pretty desperately in love with her handsome Viking, and Judith, in the next chapter, meets her brusque cavalier of the railroad station.

The Kansas City Advertising Club speaks of Mr. Griest as follows: "All of us who heard Mr. Griest were impressed not only by his inexhaustible supply of information, data and facts regarding merchandising, but his pleasing personality and his incomparable ability to effectively put across to his audience those things that he desired to emphasize.

"He was indeed a treat and his talk an inspiration conducive to better business and a better understanding of what makes for better business."

In bringing Mr. Griest to Maryville the Board of Commerce wishes all who are engaged here in selling anything to avail themselves of this wonderful opportunity, whether they belong to the Chamber of Commerce or not. There should be a mixed audience of more than 100 people at this dinner as a number of the leading merchants, upon being asked their opinion as to the advisability of having such a meeting, signified their intention of being present with all their sales people.

Tickets will go on sale later in the week in order that preparation may be made for all who intend to attend.

Very Little Betting on Senatorial Race

Most At Even Money Although Some Have Offered Odds On Hawes To Defeat Williams.

St. Louis, Nov. 1.—Betting on the outcome of the Missouri Senatorial election tomorrow is "exceptionally light" here, Tom Kearney, St. Louis best-known betting commissioner, said today.

Most of the bets placed, Kearney said, have been at even money, although some have given odds favoring Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, to win over his Republican opponent, George H. Williams. Several bets were posted that Hawes would carry St. Louis by 10,000 majority, while others were reported that he would lose the city by the same figure.

Pre-election bets, however, are seldom accurate predictions of the result, Kearney said, being reminded of the 1924 gubernatorial election. Kearney said that Arthur W. Nelson, Democrat, was a heavy favorite among those to whom "money talks."

Continue Search for Negro Who Slew

Posse Hunts for William Boyd, Who Kills Des Moines Deputy and Seriously Wounds Sedalia Man.

Des Moines, Nov. 1.—A sheriff's posse of 400 men today had failed to apprehend William Boyd, half-breed negro who shot and killed deputy sheriff Dewey Marshall of Des Moines and probably fatally wounded Deputy Sheriff Grover Brent of Sedalia, when the officers attempted to arrest him Saturday.

Marshall's head was almost torn from the body by the first charge from the negro's gun. The negro then shot Brent in the head, staggering to the road, Brent was picked up by a motorist and brought to a Des Moines hospital where it is said he has little chance for recovery.

Boyd was wanted at Sedalia on a charge of stealing hogs and extradition papers had been granted Saturday morning.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Nov. 1. — Liquidation throughout the session caused all grains on the Chicago Board of Trade to close lower than Saturday.

Eastern houses led the liquidation in the wheat pit and sent that grain to a new low on the market. There was fair buying late in the session causing a moderate reaction, but the closing tone was weak, being ⅝ to ¾ off. Cash prices were 1 cent off.

Tired holders were free sellers in the corn pit and despite a late fractional rally, corn touched new lows on the crop, closing 1¾ to 1⅞ off. Spot prices were 1 to 3 cents lower.

Oats closed ½ to ⅝ lower in sympathy with the declining market. Cash values were ½ to 1 cent off.

Provisions closed lower.

Senator Williams' Stand —

As given Saturday by Ex-Mayor Kiel of St. Louis, and leader of Republican organization:

"It is four years since Reed came here and buncoed us," he continued. "We thought he was going to get us beer. He didn't do it. Now it would be better to leave a matter like this up to a man like Senator Williams. Some people say he's dry and some say he's wet. He is as wet as I am. And you know how wet I am."

A Bit of Advice To Housekeepers

It is to your advantage to keep your pantry well filled with CANNED FOODS—thus insuring a wide variety of tempting foods and avoiding embarassment on occasions when a meal must be hurriedly prepared.

Buy In Large Quantities and SAVE Money, Worry and Trouble

Unlike raw foodstuffs, CANNED FOODS will keep indefinitely, if your pantry is cool and dry. With this possibility of spoilage removed, why not enjoy the convenience of an endless variety in your diet?

If It's CANNED—It's FRESH

Due to the location of canneries near the point where the foodstuffs come from, the cooking process and air-tight containers used, the full flavor is sealed in.

NEW CABINET JAPAN'S HOPE

1,000,000 POPULATION EXPECTED IN 30 YEARS.

CONDITIONS SERIOUS

Birth Rate of 800,000 Annually Is Danger As Well As Strength.

By MILES W. VAUGHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokyo, Nov. 1.—Japan will have a population of more than 100,000,000 within 30 years and the problem of feeding these people and providing them with profitable employment and room to live is the greatest question facing the Empire.

The sentiment in an editorial in the Kokumin sums up the opinion of a very large section of Japanese opinion which sees in the amazing birth rate of the Empire at once its greatest strength and its greatest danger.

The population now is increasing at the rate of more than 800,000 a year, and threatens shortly to reach the million-a-year mark. The limited area of the nation already is approaching the saturation point as far as population is concerned.

"How can Japan support so many people?" asks the Kokumin. "Even now her limited territory is filled to overflowing."

Other newspapers take an equally serious view of the situation, calling attention to the increasing shortage of food and the problem of finding rice for the thousands of hungry mouths added each day to the Emperor's subjects. The Osaka Mainichi frankly declares Japan must have room and intimates more territory is essential, and that a field must be found for emigration.

Publicists generally believe the population problem will be one of the most serious that will face the new government, formation of which is expected momentarily. The present all-Kanseikai cabinet headed by by Premier Wakatsuki is expected to fall at the latest shortly after the Diet meets in December. It has stood for a policy of redistribution of population within the Empire, moving people from the thickly to the less thickly settled areas, industrialization, and non-emigration except to countries where Japanese are welcomed by both government and people. Whether this policy can be continued is frankly open to question.

The Kokumin believes that should the Seiyukai Party succeed in forming the new cabinet, General Baron Tanaka, the party's leader, will become premier, and it intimates Tanaka will not continue the passive attitude of the present regime toward the population problem. Tanaka, the newspaper believes, will insist on a revival of the "racial equality" issue and to a limited extent on the right of Japanese to emigrate where they please. Other sources believe he will look to Manchuria and Mongolia and that a more aggressive Japanese policy in these areas may be expected under Seiyukai rule.

Regardless of party affiliations nearly all the Japanese newspapers agree that something must be done and a statement of its attitude toward the population question by any new Cabinet in Tokyo will be awaited with the utmost interest.

Gambling Den Found in Old Motor Truck

Havanna, Cuba, Nov. 1.—What is believed to be one of the strangest subterfuges ever used by gamblers to evade police interference, was uncovered here when police raided an old enclosed motor bus and surprised ten men busy gambling.

For several weeks suburban police had noticed the dilapidated bus wandering through outlying streets apparently without any particular destination. The bus would come to a stop on some deserted lot, the crew busy themselves repairing an imaginary puncture, while from all corners loiterers would rush to the bus seemingly in order to obtain a seat. Police becoming suspicious of the large number of punctures and breakdowns, raided the machine, arresting the crew and gamblers, and confiscating a pot of $95.

Burlington Junction

J. Howard Thompson, Correspondent.

Local people are always interested in former residents in their Community. And for that reason Burlington Junction, will be interested to know that Rev. Alva C. Brown is now pastor of the First M. E. Church in the Fortworth District of the Oklahoma Conference. Rev. Mr. Brown was superintendent of the Burlington Junction Public Schools a few years ago, and has many friends in this vicinity. He left Missouri after five years in Savannah, and went to Kansas, and last Spring was transferred to Guthrie, Okla., and at the recent Session of that Conference was sent to Lawton, Okla., where he is now pastor.

Tuesday is the General Election, and again permit me to call your attention to the marking of Proposition number 4. This is a matter that all good citizens are vitally interested in, and all should vote against the proposition. It is purely non-political, and appeals to all of every political faith. There is only one way to mark your ballot correctly, and that is, simply scratch the word "yes" and leave the word "no" untouched. Be careful of your ballot.

Mrs. Glenn Calhoun of Bedford is in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Severs. The families have been intimate friends for many years. She will remain over Sunday.

The large chorus of the Methodist Church is now practicing for their annual cantata, at Christmas time. This is an annual event with the chorus and usually draws an immense crowd. The cantata will be given in the Methodist Church.

The flu and incipient pneumonia, seem to be gripping many of our citizens at this time. Charles Miller was confined to his room for a few days on account of it, and Mrs. Clyde Walters and her son, Clifford, are both in bed, being threatened with double pneumonia. Thus far no very serious cases have developed.

Rev. J. Howard Thompson gave his Sunday School Class, consisting of fifteen hustling boys, a Hallowe'en party Friday night, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delta Arnold. Hallowe'en games were played, and music was enjoyed, and Miss Helen Arnold gave a very taking reading, while Ollie Kern captured the crowd with his singing. Refreshments, consisting of pumpkin pie, dough-nuts and coffee were served. Those present were George Dwyer, Lee Walters, Sylvester Walters, Samuel Arnold, Ollie Kern, Edwin Morse, John Damewood, Edwin Palmerton, Everett Walters, Leland Nicholas, Raymond Bartlett, Harland Friend, George Carpenter, Donald Boyer, Harland Arnold. Two members of the class were not present. The visitors were, Mr. and Mrs. Delta Arnold, and daughter Miss Helen, Phrana Harris, Edna May Williams, Margarette Monk, Mrs. C. W. Tucker, and Rev. J. Howard and Mrs. Thompson. All report having had a very delightful time. The party lasted from 7:30 to 10 p. m.

Master David Nicholas, had his second birthday, last Sunday, and in honor of that event his grandmother, Mrs. R. N. Barber, entertained for him, with a birthday dinner. Those invited aside from the immediate family were, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Nicholas, his grandparents on his father's side, Miss Nelle Harvey, Miss Mary Barber, and Miss Evelyn Moses. The day was an enjoyable one.

Highway number 71, leading north two miles east of Burlington Junction, is to be kept in a fine state of repair from now on, as the Highway department has taken it over, and will put a patrolman on the job to look after it from Burlington Junction, to the Iowa State line. This will be greatly appreciated by the patrons along the line.

Mrs. J. G. House is in Iowa, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Studer. These good people live in Afton.

Just at this time a heroic effort is being made in the entire School District to increase the Membership of the Parent Teachers Association. Two years ago the Association had a membership of 175, but last year for some reason, the Membership dropped to 45. It is the hope of all concerned that the goal of two years will again be reached. Every friend of the school is urged to become a participant in the Association.

Mrs. C. E. Walker will be hostess to the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church in her home in the east part of town tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30. Mrs. Lulu Reese, and Mrs. G. L. Yaple will be assistant hostesses. This meeting has been designated as dues paying date. It is therefore hoped that all who have not already done so will come prepared to pay their dues at this meeting. Mrs. Hubert Corken will have charge of the lesson program.

There will be a Union Armistice day service in the Methodist Church, on Sunday night, November the 14th. The program will be put on solely by local talent. Mrs. Vern Caldwell, is in charge of the music, and that simply means that the music on that night will be par excellent. Large crowd is expected to attend.

Miss Maggie Morgan who was taken to the Missouri Methodist hospital, and operated upon for gall bladder infection, is seriously sick, at this writing. Her many friends are hoping for her speedy recovery.

The Local American Legion organization held their annual election on a recent night, and elected the following officers for 1927. Post Commander, Harley Miller, First Vice, Halbert Bailey, Adjutant, Ramey Hann, Publicity Officer, Sargent at Arms, Tommie Thompson, Treasurer, Berry Hann, Chaplain, J. Howard Thompson.

Rev. J. J. Hutchinson, pastor of the Christian Church in Mound City, was in town between trains Friday night en route from his home to Monroe County, where he had been called back to a former pastorate to conduct a funeral of a friend.

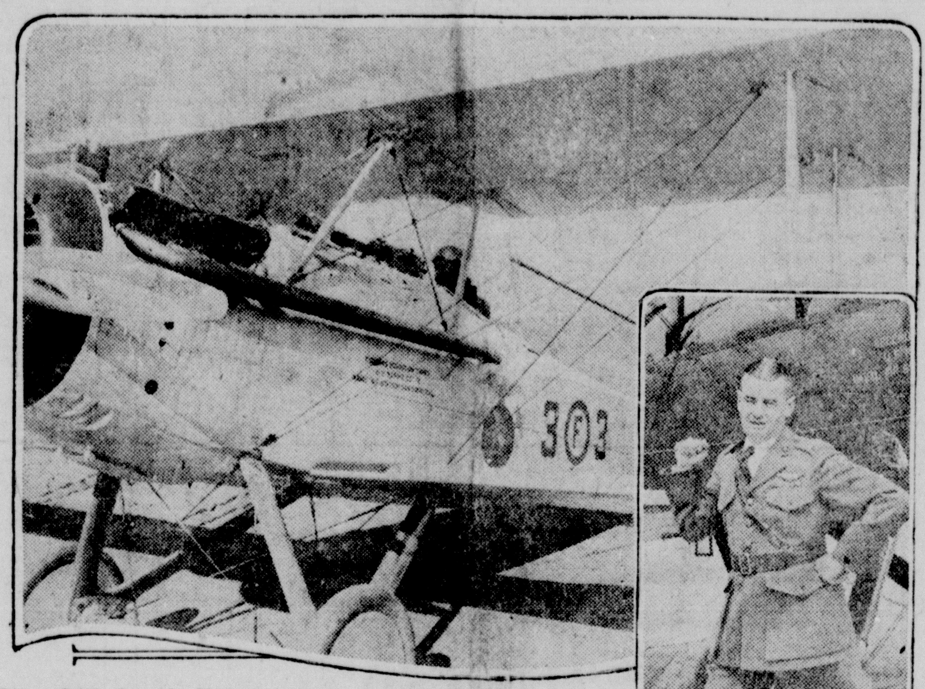
Henry Rutherford after an absence of three months in North Dakota, and Canada, in the interest of the International Threshing Machine Company, came home Thursday night. The threshing season being over he will remain at home for a time. While gone he had his headquarters at Fargo, N. Dakota. Henry has many friends in and around Burlington Junction, who are glad to welcome him home again.

One of the leading citizens of the Community, came to the writer a few nights ago with a hearty greeting, and spirited hand shake, and said to him. "I saw it in the Burlington Junction Items in the Democrat-Forum. I certainly thank you." That was complimentary. Our sole aim is to get all the news and present them to the general reading public in the most attractive and readable manner possible. If you have an item, just call me and I shall be glad to consider it.

Methodism has a very unique and practical system of exchange of pastors. Here is a marked illustration. Last week, Bishop Waldorf, the resident bishop for this Area, having his home in Kansas City, on his own prerogative made the following changes. He moved Dr. Kulp from First Church, Topeka, Kansas, and stationed him at First Church in Des Moines, Iowa, and transferred Dr. Scott, from the First Church in Des Moines to First Church in Salina, Kansas, and took Dr. McFadden from First Church, in Salina, Kansas, and stationed him at First Church, Topeka. Thus the machinery, being well oiled, the plan is working smoothly, and everybody is happy.

The annual roll call for the Red Cross is on. This is a very worth while cause and ought not to be rejected by any one. As usual the students of the Public Schools will be a potent factor in putting it across. Of course, Burlington Junction, will as she always is, be at the fore front in this great movement.

Marine Corp Aviator Is World's Safest Flyer; Has Traveled 250,000 Miles Without Mishap



Expert Gunner.

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 26.—Meet the world's safest aviator—Captain H. D. Campbell of the United States marine flying corps.

He has flown 2500 hours,—probably 250,000 miles—since he became an aviator in 1921, with a perfect record of safe flights and landings. In the last year he has been in the air 840 hours without a crack-up.

Captain Campbell recently won the Herbert Schiff memorial trophy for his excellence as a safe pilot. Now he's preparing to fly to Washington, where President Coolidge will hand him the trophy.

A Vermonter.

The flier will accept the award from the president with keen appreciation of the honor, for both hail from Vermont.

By his remarkable record, Captain Campbell becomes known as the safest aviator in the world. And, strangely enough, on the very day he learned that he was awarded the trophy, he nearly marred his record by a forced landing in the mountains east of here.

Captain Campbell, with a party of other marine aviators, was cruising about. Suddenly his motor slowed, and continued to turn more slowly, until he floated near the mountain. Just as he was about to "crack," the motor suddenly took life and all was well. A carburetor float had stuck, and became free just in time to save ship and pilot.

Record Unrivaled.

The record that Captain Campbell made during the last year is a world's mark, for no airman in the service of any other nation has as yet so many hours in the air without a crash to his credit.

The marine flier first entered aviation as a student at Pensacola, Fla., in 1921, and a year later was an instructor in aviation at various marine bases.

Previously he had served with the famous marine second division in the Verdun trenches, at Belleau Wood, and in nearly all other major offensives after the United States entered the war.

Captain Campbell was the first to organize an air mal service from Santa Barbara after the 1925 earthquake.

In addition to winning the safety trophy, he has been highly commended by the secretary of the navy for making the highest free machine gun score from a field of 460 contestants. He made 93 hits out of a possible 97 in nine seconds at 90 miles an hour!

Later he made a perfect bombing record when he scored four direct hits out of four bombs dropped 4000 feet. During the recent aviation meet at Denver, marine air forces under Captain Campbell's command received prizes for the best formation flying and landing.

SHOULD VISIT EXHIBIT TRAIN

WILL BE IN MARYVILLE WEDNESDAY MORNING.

WILL HOLD CONTESTS

Women Of County Will Be Especially Interested In Work—At Burlington Junction Too.

Nodaway Countians are urged to visit the Farm and Home special demonstration train which will visit Maryville and Burlington Junction Wednesday morning, J. Ross Fleetwood, county agricultural agent, said today. The county official has issued letters to the residents of this county requesting that they visit the train and letters also were sent to project leaders of the women's work in the county urging each to inform all of the families in her group about the train. Because of previous work done along the lines of the home improvement exhibit, Mr. Fleetwood feels that the women of the county will be especially interested in this particular exhibit.

One of the features of the exhibition will be the home improvement contest. The contest consists of two parts: first, an argument of not more than 1500 words, for modern improvements of farm homes; second, a survey of his or her school district as to the number and kinds of modern improvements in use in the farm homes in that district. A score of 1,000 points will be used in grading both the arguments and the survey.

The winners will be allowed to choose in the order of their standing in the contest from the following prizes: a hot and cold water system, a simple water system, a pneumatic water system, a kerosene water heater, a set of pipe fitting tools and other prizes.

Any boy or girl over 18 years of age and any man or woman who lives on a farm at the present time are eligible to the contest.

New Engine Carry Plane Across Ocean

"Cyclops" Is Greatest Single Engine Flyer Ever Built; Weighs 17,000 Pounds.

Washington, Nov. 1.—A gigantic airplane capable of flight from New York to London, or from San Francisco to the Hawaiian Islands, is being built by the Huff Daland Company at Bristol, Pennsylvania, for the United States Army Air Corps.

This great machine, known as "Cyclops," is the greatest single engine airplane ever built, and was designed as a bomber. Until recently it was known as the "Mystery Plane," but specifications of it now are published in "United States Air Service."

"Cyclops," in service will weigh 17,000 pounds and will carry a useful load of 9,000 pounds. The span is 85 feet, length 65 feet, speed 135 miles per hour, with fuel capacity for 24 hours.

The machine has mountings for ten machine-guns and racks for either one 4,000-pound bomb, or two 2,000-pound bombs, or four 1,000-pound bombs.

The structure is entirely of metal, the material being chiefly chrome molybdenum steel.

When completed "Cyclops" was equipped with a packard 800 horsepower engine. Later, however, this will be replaced by a new twenty-four cylinder, air-cled 1,200 horsepower engine, now being constructed by Air Corps engineers.

"Cyclops" is the result of protracted experiments during and after the war. Improved anti-aircraft guns and pursuit planes necessitated high-flying capacity for bombing-planes and also capacity to carry heavy bombs.

The "Insignificant Minority"

Russia's "insignificant minority" is pictured here. They are, left to right, Kamenev, ex-president of the People's Commisars; Trotsky, ex-commisar for war; Zinoview, head of the Third Internationale. At the right is Kalenin, head of the Union of Soviet Republics. Kamenev, Trotsky and Zinoviev have signed a pact admitting failure in their fight against Joseph Stalin, Communist chief, and promising to be good.

The Queen Writes a Letter

PALATUL REGAL

Miss Lillian W. Larned.

Dear Madam,

I want to tell you myself how pleased I was to get your letter. It makes me happy and proud to feel the friendship of women in far away America. I long to know you all and hope with all my heart that the day of our meeting may soon come.

Marie

Queen of Roumania

Busy American business men aren't the only ones into whose letters wee little discrepancies may creep now and then. Here is a letter received by Lillian W. Larned of Detroit from Marie, queen of Rumania. Somehow her name seems to have been written by a different typewriter from the one that wrote the rest of the letter. Also, she is called first "miss" and then "madam." Nevertheless, the letter is one of the recipient's most carefully guarded treasures.

Men's Clothes Run to Bright Colors, N. Is Fashion's Decree

And now the men have gone suit-mad, the local clothing, according to local merchants, for it's bright colors and many models that strike the dominant note in men's apparel for fall and winter.

While the mainstay of the well-dressed man is still the conservative blue and brown, Overcoats, too, are of eight-breasted, but their colors are more striking. Plaids, checks and Harvard "reds" colors can be had.

Snap brim hats of light color and wide-brimmed, but their colors are more striking. Plaids, checks and Harvard "reds" colors can be had.

The newest thing out is the new square silk muffler which is in demand in many colors and models. Any color is good so long as it is bright and varied.

All pajamas are bright as to color and pattern.

Fancy handkerchiefs, fancy muffs, fancy plaid hosiery and light gloves are the accessories for a "snappy dresser."

Sport coats are good this year and they come in many colors and models.

GOOD WILL FLIGHT

Longest Hop To Be 565 Miles; Not Aim To Make Speed Records.

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent).

Washington, Nov. 1.—Advance officers will leave this country within a few days to make final preparations on the ground for the U. S. Army 18,500 mile Pan-American flight.

Starting from San Antonio on December 15, the five Loening amphibian planes will head toward Panama and the Pacific, later crossing the southern continent from Chile to Argentine and returning up the Atlantic coast.

"The purpose of this flight," according to Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis, "is to strengthen the amicable relations already existing among the American republics, to demonstrate the feasibility of aerial transportation and communication between these widely separated nations, and finally to subject the amphibian airplanes to a severe service test over both land and water.

"Effort will not be made to attain speed records, stops being so arranged as to permit the personnel of the flight to visit the capitals of the nations along the itinerary and give opportunity for examination of the airplanes by such observers of those nations as may be interested in the development of commercial air transportation."

The flight itinerary includes stops at all of the Central and South American countries except Nicaragua and Ecuador, whose governments are not recognized by the United States. In general the flight will keep to the sea coasts, which will necessitate a side trip by rail from Chili for the flyers to present their compliments to the government and people of Bolivia.

Arica, seat of the bitter Tacna-Arica sovereignty dispute between Chile and Peru and former headquarters of General John J. Pershing as plebiscite chairman, has been dropped from the itinerary.

Great care has been exercised in picking the ten army aviators for the flight.

Major Herbert A. Dargue, who will command the flight, is now on duty in the office of the Chief of Army Air Corps, as assistant chief, training and war plans division. After graduating from West Point in 1911, he began flying in the Philippines and on the Mexican border. Later he commanded flying schools in this country and France. Dargue is 40 years old, and a distinguished graduate of the Command and General Staff school. He is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Capt. Arthur B. McDaniel is chief of training at the Advanced Flying School, Kelly Field, Texas. A native of San Antonio, he has served in the army since 1917, and as an aviation officer since 1920. He is 31 years old.

Capt. Ira C. Eaker, assistant executive officer to the chief of army air corps here, is one of the crack cross-country flyers of the service. He entered the army through the Officers' Training Camps in 1917, and has served with the Air Corps at the major American and Philippine fields. He was born in Llano county, Texas, in 1896.

Captain Clinton F. Woolsey, of Northport, Mich., is ranked as one of the best pilots in the army, being an expert with foreign as well as American type planes. He has served as commmanding officer of the 46th School Squadron and as Chief Test Pilot. Woolsey is now on duty at McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio.

Lieut. Bernard S. Thompson, a native of Florida, participated in the international air races at New York in 1925 and at Philadelphia this year. He is now on duty at Phillips Field, Md., and has served as instructor in flying and wireless telephony at various fields.

Lieut. Leonard D. Weddington, of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, is a specialist in aerial photography. Lieut. Charles Mok. Robinson, now at Fort Crockett, Texas, has served as a pilot in the Philippines and on the Mexican border. His home is Columbus, Ohio.

Lieut. Muir S. Fairchild, Langly Field, Va., received his flying training in Italy and France. He participated in night bombing raids over Germany during the war, was wounded, and received the French croix de guerre. Fairchild, who is 32 years old and a native of Bellingham, Washington, has 1,500 flying hours to his credit.

Lieut. Ennis C. Whitehead, a Kansan, was a test pilot and instructor in France during the World War, and has participated in several international air races. He is on duty with the supply division at Fairfield, Ohio. Lieut. John W. Benton, a Californian, has been in the air service since 1918, acting most of the time as flying instructor in Panama and elsewhere. He is stationed at Crissy Field, San Francisco.

Advance officers chosen to prepare for the flight in the six geographical divisions are: Capt. W. P. Hayes, and Lieuts. Byron T. Burt, Melvin P. Asp, Samuel C. Skemp, William B. Souza, and Ivan G. Mermen.

The Loening type amphibian plane to be used is capable of taking from, or landing on, either land or water. With special fuel tanks for the Pan-American flight, these planes have a cruisin range of 1,000, or ten hours at 100 miles an hour. But the longest hop, as now arranged on the 18,524 mile trip, will be 565 miles from Neugen and Bahai Blanca, crossing South America from Chili to Argentina.

The Loening type amphibian is built in the form of a boat, and is equipped with retractable wheels fitting in niches in the boat sides. The wheels are raised and lowered by a mechanism controlled from the pilot's pit. Either wheels or boat may be used in landing, or both may be used—if a beach is available, the plane may alight upon the water and then lower the wheels and taxi onto land.

Motor equipment consists of an inverted or "upside down" type of the Liberty engine, an adaptation of the motor developed during the world war.

The official flight itinerary, with hop mileage, follows:

CARE FOR YOUR BODY AS FOR AN AUTO

If the Average Person Watched His Physique as He Does His Automobile He Always Would Have Good Health.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

In a Western paper the other day I saw a very interesting article written by some doctor. He compared the body to an automobile. Then he asked this question: "When you drive your car to the service station would you allow the tank to be filled with water or molasses? What a foolish question? Of course not. You want gasoline and you want the best. But why do you insist on gasoline when something else would fill the tank just as well?"

Isn't it remarkable to think that human beings appear to think less of their bodies than they do of their automobiles? I know a girl who has a new automobile. If the paint isn't shining and the nickel sparkling she makes a row about it.

I have no objection, of course, to the owner taking the best of care of a valuable piece of machinery like an automobile. But isn't it strange that a man will guard his car against abuse and be on the alert all the time to protect it, when he gives no thought whatever to the care of his precious body?

The owner of a car who would never think of leaving his machine out of doors overnight will drag his poor suffering abused body to a halfdozen night clubs, expose it to the elements and take it home at daylight.

It is too bad for one to become hipped on the subject of health and diet, but if you must be hipped on something, I can think of nothing more important to you than to know how to take care of your body and its various structures. Certainly you should know enough about the right foods to know how to choose them.

It is too bad that we neglect the body as we do. You wouldn't think much of the owner of a car who never cleaned it. You can't run a car long if you don't have the carbon taken out of the cylinders. You can't operate a car long clogged with dirt and grease.

Lots of people go through life as badly clogged as the worst running car in the world. The intestines are filled with waste. The liver and kidneys are clogged. The heart muscle is replaced with fat, and all in all the human machine is in a bad way.

This isn't good sense. I beg of you to learn how to eat and how to get rid of the wastes of the body.

Constipation may be overcome by right eating. Very simple measures will cause the body to eliminate the poisons and to leave the human machine in fine running order.

Plenty of folks take into the stomach foods which are just as inappropriate as molasses would be in the oil tank of your car. They seem to have no regard for the digestive organs, and appear to be indifferent to the needs of the tissues of the body. This is wrong. You must learn what to eat and how to eat it. You must learn to select foods which will supply the essential needs of your system.

The Good, Old, Graceful Waltz Is Threatening a Comeback

And so we hear murmurings of the return of the good, old, graceful waltz. Of course the sound may only be the bleatings and moanings of overworked saxaphones in the distance, but probably not, for included in the most popular song hits of the season, local music dealers say, are several waltz numbers, in fact more than have appeared for years. "Valencia," which proved so popular as a song number, now has a dance named for it and is similar to "Barcelona," another song hit of Spain.

Old themes have been cleverly rejuvenated in these old waltz ballads: "School Day Sweethearts," "Am I Wasting My Time on You," and "I Wish I Had My Old Gal Back Again."

"I Can't Get Over a Girl Like You Loving a Boy Like Me" is the name of a new song from "Lemaire's Affairs," a musical show featuring Sophie Tucker and Ted Lewis. This number is popular in the cities.

Those who have heard "Looking at the World Through Rose Colored Glasses," sung slowly or those who have danced to it played a bit faster are familiar with the kind of song it is. Other songs of this type are "Crying for the Moon," "My Sweetheart," and "In a Little Garden".

The only new mother ballad on the market is "Calling Me Home." Fox trots, dance numbers, are almost numberless.

"If Tears Could Bring You Back to Me," "I'd Love to Meet That Old Sweetheart of Mine," "I'm Walking Around in Circles," and "Will You Be True," are in this group.

Other "jazzy" numbers are: "Baby Face," "Precious," "My Cutey's Due at Two to Two Today," "Breezin' Along," "How Could Red Riding Hood," "I'm on My Way Home," "That's a Good Girl," "Cherie, I Love You," "Cheritza" and "That's My Girl." "Because I Love You," is a near-ballad number just out by Irving Berlin.

Always There

"For an industry that has grown from practically nothing in 25 years, the business of fueling motor cars has become one of the wonders of the industrial world," says a bulletin of the American Research Foundation. "The notable thing about it is that the gasoline is always there."

The achievement of having gasoline ready at any spot where it is wanted has been accomplished through superlative organization by the various units of the petroleum industry. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is acknowledged a leader in size—in production—in manufacturing—in distribution.

Gasoline is always there. This is so true that few people realize there is anything "notable" about it.

If you were to drive up to a Service Station of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the attendant were to say, "I'm sorry, but we are out of gasoline just now," you would be surprised, to say the least.

Because you can always get gasoline anywhere you go, you have learned to take its supply and distribution for granted.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
